Table 2a

Proposed regulations: Distribution Operators Estimated First Year Examination/Certification Fees

Assumptions:

- 1. There are apprx. 10,500 people working as distribution operators at the time the reg is adopted; they will need to be certified.
- 2,110 will take the exam the first year, 7,393 will have AWWA certification and be deemed to have state certificates, but must renew them the first year for a one-time renewal period of two years, and 1,000 will be grandparented via interim certification for 3 to 6 years.
- 2: Fees incurred during the first year after adoption consist of application/exam fees for 2,110 operators, certification for those who pass, renewal and certification fees for AWWA operators who obtain state certification, and certification fees for 1,000 interim operators.
- 3. Proportions of 10,500 distribution operators among the five grades will be similar to that of applicants for treatment operator exams grades 1 through 5 (37%, 40%, 14%, 7%, and 2%, respectively), except for known distribution of 7393 AWWA operators (grades 2 through 5: 63%, 29%, 7%, and 1%, respectively).
- 4. There are 2 exams/year; based on 1997-99 treatment operator exam statistics, ~50% of examinees in a year will pass.
- 5. Operators will pay all fees below except for three types of savings:
 - a. Dual certification savings--operators who obtain both a treatment operator and distribution operator certificate either simultaneously or sequentially will get a discount on certification and renewal fees (see table 3)
 - b. Operators will no longer need to pay AWWA certification fees (est $100,000/year total)
 - c. Apprx 100 grade 1 and 2 operators will have restricted certification (proposed reg. sec 63825); the employing water utilities are required to pay the application/exam fees. These are estimated to be <$10,000.
